Milk is only for crying babies

Babies cry for various reasons, including the craving to get attention. The idiom The crying baby gets the milk has its modern version, the squeaky wheel gets the grease. The message in these two versions of the idiom is that the most noticeable (or loudest) problems are the ones most likely to get attention. Mysuru has just experienced that message in the wake of well-timed eight-day brooms down action by more than 2,000 civic workers of MCC resulting in a pile up of garbage all over the city triggering the powers that be in the Karnataka Government to press the panic buttons and deciding to appease the hapless city's cleaning workforce. Thanks to the exaggerated glorification of non-violent staging of public mass shows across the country during the decades preceding freedom, popularly described as satyagraha (demanding what is just and due), the nation is embroiled in such shows by the aggrieved section pursuing a multitude of causes. To crave for exalted status in society and to seek eradication of inequality on various counts are all-too-familiar human traits, more noticeable in our times.

The phenomenon of inequality everywhere begins with the game of ranking based on specific parameter. In case of students, the parameter is just marks scored in tests and exams. In case of cities vying for top billing for their liveability and cleanliness, authorities have drawn up 36 parameters. The parameter of caste for heightened attention to certain section of populace in country doesn't need elaboration.

Several agencies are turning their attention to some not-thought-about-before sides to the profiles of countries across the world. Rating the countries for their military power or economic strength has now got enlarged to other aspects such as ease of doing business, safety of women and children, level of human development, number of high-net-worth-individuals and so on. The latest ranking of countries in a new worldwide index released early this week by UK-based Charity Oxfam International's Commitment to Reducing Inequality has placed India at 147th among 157 countries analysed. The agency's verdict that if India were to reduce inequality by a third, more than 170 million people in the country would no longer be poor.

While many sections of the land's population come under the ambit of organised sectors of the economy and are succeeding in accessing milk after crying as it were, the ground to be covered in reducing inequality on a multitude of counts is too large to expect success in foreseeable future. Inequality in society, the badge of the country's masses, doesn't see the rest in good light.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

A large number of banks who have made bad loans to wilful defaulters are having to resign themselves to a 'haircut'. When I first heard the word used in this context, I was intrigued. Would those responsible for having sanctioned the bad loan — the Managers of the Banks, say — have to have their heads shaved as a mark of penance? Should we expect to see a whole lot of bankers who'd overnight become bald? However, I discovered that the haircuts bankers had to have were not literal but metaphorical: a 'haircut' in commercialese means having to accept a smaller sum when trying to recover a loan. If you'd loaned someone a hundred bucks and you managed to get back only ninety bucks, you would have taken a 'haircut'. Indian custom of the mundan ceremony that many male children undergo, which involves having one's haircut off under the auspices of a priest, who then charges the parents of the child a hefty fee for the service rendered. So when bankers are compelled to take a haircut, does the term trace its etymology to the mundan ritual? Then the other day I went to a local barbershop to have my hair cut. At the end of the exercise I was presented a bill of Rs. 530, plus 10 per cent tip. Almost 600 bucks for a haircut? I'd not only had my hair cut, but also my wallet cut. And I've finally understood why a banker's 'haircut' is called a haircut. — Jug Suraiya in The Times of India.

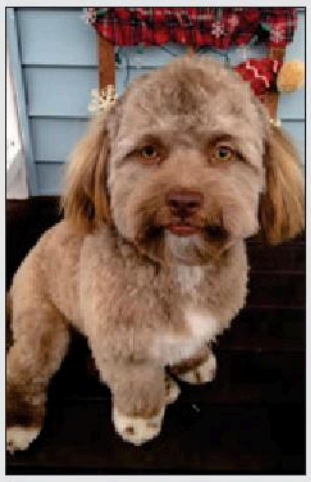
Dog with a disturbingly human face



Massachusetts: A one-year-old brown Shih Tzu- poodle mix dog named Yogi has become a social media sensation due to his uncanny, almost human-like facial expression.

Photos of Yogi have been doing the rounds online, and people can't stop talking about him. It wasn't long before people started pointing out that his face looked uncannily human-like, and some even asked her if dog owner Chantal used software like Photoshop or one of those popular 'face swap' apps to create the eerie effect.

With his striking soulful eyes, detailed brow, close cut mustache and a snout that closely resembles a pair of lips, Yogi does have a strange, almost human-like visage. While some people think he looks adorable, others think that this is just disturbing.

Man sets record for spinning largest hula hoop

Tokyo: Hula hoop street performer Yuya Yamada from Tokyo, Japan, recently set a new Guinness record for spinning a 5.14 mts (16 ft 10 in) aluminium hoop using only his torso.

Yamada had broken the world record for largest hula hoop spun once before, when he managed to spin a 4.93 mts hoop, but he later lost his title to Ashrita Furman, who spun a 5.04 mts one.

Japan's Hoop Man decided it was time to win it back and traveled to Yokohama for the official attempt, and easily spun a 5.14 mts hoop more than the required three times, setting a new world record right on Guinness World Records Day.

The guy has incredible coordination, which basically allows him to keep the hoops spinning with virtually every part of his body, but for his latest world record attempt, he needed a completely different approach.

What causes urinary tract infections?

75% to 95% of Urinary Tract Infections (UTIs) are caused by E. Coli bacteria. Females should avoid wiping from back to front after a bowel movement. This can move E.Coli, which is present in the faeces, to the vaginal area, where it can make contact with the urinary opening, causing a urinary tract infection.

Dasara Street Carnival

Mysuru, Oct.13 (NNN)- Festive atmosphere is pervading the entire city as the 409th Dasara celebrations entered the fourth day today. As if to reflect this feeling, the iconic nearly century-old Krishnaraja Boulevard (stretch between the Oriental Research Institute (ORI) and Mysuru Law Courts) turned into a total carnival mood this morning.

The occasion was a day-long 'Mysuru Open Street Festival', organised by the District Administration, Tourism Department, Mysuru Travel Agents Association and Mysuru Hotel Owners Association.

The festive spirit began right from early in the morning as loud music blared and brought alive the three stages with college and school-going crowd shaking their legs to groovy music.

In all there are nearly 100 stalls on the 1.5 km stretch. There are 20 food courts that includes nearly 13 food trucks (most of them from Bengaluru), flea market with 20 stalls, 10 art and handicraft stalls, 10 earth (related to environment) stalls and others 10 stalls, said Mysuru Travels Association President B.S. Prashanth.

Apart from this there is a mobile planetarium that displays a video on solar system for ten minutes. The Children's Art Camp organised by Gallery Alternative is a big draw with many children showcasing their painting talent. "The Government has supported this initiative by giving free paints and colours," said Azim Mohammad Khan, who owns the gallery.

TRUE NADA HABBA: DC

Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar told Star of Mysore, "This is a true Nada Habba in all its essence as the Government, elected representatives and people have come together to celebrate Dasara."

Asked why Krishnaraja Boulevard was chosen as the venue, he said that the road right up to DC Office had everything that describes Mysuru as the heritage city.

It has many heritage structures like the Oriental Research Institute, DC Office, the iconic Crawford Hall, 150 year-old Maharaja's College and Yuvaraja's College, the Law Courts, a more than century-old house called the Margosa Lodge, the Maharaja's College Hostel and also Zilla Panchayat Office, he said.

"Besides, there are two parks and since it is a boulevard, it is a picture-perfect place for holding the street festival and also for spreading the message of clean and green city," he said.

"This is a festival which has attracted people from all ages. There are children as young as two to three year olds dancing to the tune of music as also seniors enjoying themselves. We hope that this will be real precursor to the regular street carnivals in the future for this city," said Mysuru Travel Mart Chairman C.A. Jayakumar.

Asked about the decision of the move to shift the street festival from Devaraja Urs Road to Krishnaraja Boulevard this year, Tourism Department Deputy Director H. Janardhan said that this was a decision taken by the Dasara Executive Committee.

"Last year, on Devaraja Urs Road, shopkeepers were unhappy as they felt that it affected their business. Since the Boulevard is free from all obstructions, the committee felt that this was an ideal place," he said.

Dust masks
Dasara Air Show

Mysuru, Oct. 13 (RK&BCT)- Over 6,000 people who had come to the Torchlight Parade Grounds to witness the rehearsal of the much hyped Dasara Air Show were left disappointed as they could not see the show as dust covered the entire venue.

So severe was the dust that the crowd, including women, children and the elderly ran helter-skelter as swarms of dust hit them due to the heavy wind and the air pressure generated by the aircraft. The absolute unpreparedness of the officials in organising such shows was evident at the venue and people were seen cursing the organisers for spoiling their day.

Open Top Bus Tour around illuminated city proves a hit

Mysuru, Oct. 13 (MTY, SBD& BCT)- As part of enhancing tourist experience this Dasara, the district administration is operating 'Open-Top' buses, similar to the ones that roam the streets of London in United Kingdom. This particular tour is attracting more and more people especially during the night to see the illuminated city.

So much is the response that the authorities are forced to extend the timings of the tour after dark. The concept of Open Top bus tour gives visitors to Mysuru an opportunity to go around the city during Dasara in a specially designed and branded bus.

Organised by the Karnataka State Tourism Development Corporation (KSTDC) in association with Bengaluru Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) and Department of Tourism, the vehicle takes visitors around important destinations during a 60-minute tour.

Tourists are taken around the city from 7 am to 10 pm. The authorities had earlier decided to run such buses from morning till 7 pm. But there was no response for the morning tours and people queued up for the night tour as it shows the illuminated city. Seeing the overwhelming response, the organisers decided to extend the night service till 10 pm.

The bus, which has 35 seats, starts from the City Bus Stand and goes around Mysore Palace Gate, Sri Jayachamarajendra Circle (Hardinge Circle), K.R. Circle, D. Devaraja Urs Road, Metropole Circle, Railway Station, K.R. Hospital Circle, Bannimantap, LIC Office Circle, Five Light Circle, Suburban Bus Stand and Dasara Exhibition Gate.

A guide, dressed in traditional attire wearing a Mysuru turban is on board to explain to the tourists the significance of the historical places during the tour. A tariff of Rs. 150 per head has been fixed. Tourists are also offered light refreshments including juice, wafers and chocolates.

When the initiative was planned, it was decided to offer tourists the facility to book online tickets. As many local residents will be robbed of an opportunity to see the illuminated city if tickets are sold exclusively through online, it was later decided to close the online facility.

A separate counter has now been opened at the City Bus Stand enabling people to buy the tickets. People who want to take the bus tour can buy tickets between 11 am and 12 noon every day.

CM's Dasara Darshan

Last night, Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy, who had come to the city to inaugurate the Yuva Dasara, took a ride on Open Top bus, instead of going around the city in his swanky and customised Range Rover SUV.

The CM boarded the bus at Government Guest House and witnessed the illuminated city on Irwin Road, Sayyaji Rao Road, K.R. Circle, Gun House Circle, Chamaraja Double Road, Mysore Palace and arrived at the Maharaja's College Grounds where he inaugurated the Yuva Dasara.

Accompanied by District Minister G.T. Devegowda, Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh, Agriculture Minister Shivashankar Reddy and MLC Basavaraja Horatti and a host of officials, the CM responded to the waving and cheering crowd. The CM's bus tour, however, had its own share of troubles as traffic jams were witnessed all along the route he took. The Police had to struggle to make way for an ambulance that was stuck in the jam.

Town Hall multi-level parking facility opens for two months

Mysuru, Oct. 13 (MTY&BCT)- The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has opened the multi-level pay-and-park facility at Town Hall temporarily for public during Dasara fest.

The decision to open the parking lot has provided a relief to many commuters who were otherwise struggling to park their vehicles in the Central Business District in the absence of parking on the main roads that are usually occupied by shopkeepers and shoppers.

While cars have to pay Rs. 10 for parking, two-wheelers have to pay Rs. 5. There are no restrictions of time. Speaking to Star of Mysore, MCC Commissioner K.H. Jagadeesha said that the facility will be open for two months.

The Town Hall can accommodate over 600 four-wheelers and over 1,000 two-wheelers. The works of parking lot began way back in 2011 and only 80 percent of the works are complete. The MCC has opened the facility with a main intention of easing traffic congestion and parking hassles in the central area where people come to witness Dasara.

With the opening of parking facility at Town Hall, the practice of allowing vehicles to park around the Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple has now been discontinued. This place is now open for tourists, tongawallas and other street vendors to sell their wares. Tongawallas who used to complain that their business is hit due to parking of vehicles can now attract more and more tourists to see the illuminated city.

The MCC floated tenders to operate and maintain the multi-level parking lot as it is difficult for it to prevent vehicle thefts and maintain and operate the parking facility due to skeletal staff. Instructions have been given to contractor to ensure security of vehicles and depute enough staff to maintain and operate the parking lot.

VOICE OF THE READER

Dasara Brand Ambassador must be seen in public

Big B galvanises Gujarat tourism, why not our Maharaja galvanise Mysuru Tourism?

Sir,

When Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh appointed our Maharaja as the Brand Ambassador of Mysuru City, I was the first one to congratulate him for his bold initiative. But alas, his group of officials have let him down badly after this excellent move. They just do not have any clue as to how to proceed further in this matter of promoting tourism.

What next ? That is the reason I had mentioned in one of my articles that it is important for the Minister to have a dedicated team of officials in the Ministry who can take his vision forward. The subject of "tourism" requires some amount of creativity and out-of-the-box thinking.

The first thing the officials should have ensured is that about 40 to 50 hoardings in Bengaluru and Chennai should have been put up, specially near the Airport, showing the Maharaja in his full regalia welcoming citizens to come to Mysuru for Dasara. Imagine any tourist, domestic or international, getting down from the plane and being welcomed by the Maharaja !

Secondly, since the Private Durbar of the Maharaja is on at the Palace, they should have appointed a professional photographer to take a video of the proceedings. From this video, a 30 second to one minute film, with voice over both in english and some foreign languages like French or German should be prepared. Whenever our officials and the Minister go to attend a fair or exhibition abroad, this film should be shown in the Pavilion. Imagine the visual impact of a real Maharaja's Durbar !

Last but not the least is to somehow persuade the Maharaja to be a part of the Jumboo Savari on his Silver Chariot. I do hope somebody has taken the initiative to talk to our Highness on this subject.

Bollywood superstar Amitabh Bachchan galvanised Gujarat tourism after he was appointed as the Brand Ambassador. I hope the Tourism Department Officials wake up and start thinking to get the maximum benefit from this tie up.

Mysurean Vijay Prakash enthrals audience; CM becomes emotional for 'Olithu Maadu Manusha' song

Students of University of Mysore Fine Arts College and Mangaluru Boys Zone performed 'Shivathandava' Dance before the inaugural of Yuva Dasara yesterday. Picture right shows playback singer Vijay Prakash performing on the occasion.

Mysuru, Oct.13 (SBD&SR)- Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy inaugurated 'Yuva Dasara,' one of the main attractions of Dasara festivities, in presence of large gathering of youths at Maharaja's College Grounds last evening. Yuva Dasara will be held till Oct.17 to entertain the youths in particular.

Inaugurating the celebrations by lighting the lamp, the CM greeted the people for Dasara celebrations after seeking the blessings of Goddess Chamundeshwari, the presiding deity of the city, for welfare and progress of the people. Infosys Foundation Chief Sudha Murty, District Minister G.T. Devegowda, State Legislative Council Speaker Basavaraj Horatti, Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh, Minor Irrigation Minister C.S. Puttaraju, Agriculture Minister N.H. Shivashankar Reddy, Gundlupet BJP MLA C.S. Niranjan Kumar, DC Abhiram G. Sankar, City Police Commissioner Dr A. Subramanyeswara Rao, SP Amith Singh and others were present during the inauguration.

Vijay Prakash steals the show

Mysurean, Playback singer and music composer Vijay Prakash, who began with the song 'Gombe Heluthaithe' of Rajakumara movie, entertained the audience for almost two-and-a-half hours by his melodious voice. Youths enjoyed the musical extravaganza by whistling, dancing, humming and clapping their hands.

Vijay Prakash captured the audience with Kirik Party movie song 'Belageddu Yaara Mukhava Naanu Nodide,' Ayogya's 'Yenammi, Yenammi,' Kotigobba-2's 'Salutthillave, Salutthillave' and Chowka's 'Alladsu, Alladsu.' He also sung Kannada tele-serial 'Magalu Janaki's title track 'Oora Serabahude, Neenu Daari Mugiyade' written by noted Kannada poet Dr. H.S. Venkateshwaramurthy.

Earlier, CM Kumaraswamy became emotional when Vijay Prakash along with his co-singer presented C.S. Ashwath's hit 'Olithu Madu Manusha, Neenu Irodu Mooru Divasa.'

Dance by film stars

Dance performances by actors Ragini Dwivedi and Shanvi Srivastava mesmerised youths. Ragini entered the stage with her dance moves beginning with 'Tara Tara Hidiside Manasige Neenu' song. Shanvi too enchanted the gathering with her performance to many popular songs. The laser light dance show enraptured the audience and it was a special experience for the people present. The participants clicked pictures from their mobile phone as they were thrilled by the laser light dance.

Student performance

The students of University of Mysore Fine Arts College and Mangaluru Boys Zone performed 'Shivathandava' Dance before the inaugural function. The celebrations which were scheduled at 6.30 pm delayed for two hours testing the patience the audience.

The CM and other guests arrived on a special bus and inaugurated the programme after seeing some dance and laser light dance. The technical failure of the big LED screens put up for the benefit of visitors to view the show dampened the excitement of the visitors.

Vikram Muthanna

Purr...fume

Just a few days ago, it was reported that Avni had turned a man-eater. Now, before your sick mind starts Googling "Avni eats man", please know that Avni is a tigress and not a porn star.

Avni has developed a taste for human flesh and has mauled to death nearly a dozen humans around Pandharkawada village in Maharashtra and the Forest Department has been unable to capture her.

The Department officials tried to bait her but failed. They took six elephants to capture her but one of the elephants went berserk and trampled a villager ! Then they got the Italian breed of fearless dogs known as Cane Corso to track Avni and even that failed. Now they say they have a final solution to capture her and it comes in a small round bottle.

They say they are going to turn Avni's man-eating roar into a seductive purr by spraying perfume ! And it's not just any perfume, the tigress will respond to only designer Calvin Klein's perfume, ironically named 'Obsession', for Men! Guess, Calvin Klein got confused; he made a perfume to attract the wrong species of pussycat !

It's not that Avni is a posh tigress or a gold digger who can only be attracted by designer products. It seems big cats are obsessed with the smell of this perfume as it has Civetone, a chemical compound (pheromone) derived from the scent glands of civet cat. It is believed that a civet cat secretes the strong musky odour for territorial marking and other cats respond by visiting the area with that smell and then spraying their own scents over it.

This could actually work. Many researchers use this perfume to lure animals to a spot to click photographs. In fact, in countries where hunting is legal, hunters use something called 'attractants' that come in the form of urine sprays.

Yes, animal urine is bottled to lure them. Thank God, humans are not lured by urine as a mating sign or a challenge lest our bushes and walls become mating and fighting spots.

But then a report published in Science News magazine states that people emit chemicals similar to those given off by animals. It seems, men produce a chemical in their armpit sweat called androstadienone (AN-dro-STAY-dee-eh-noan). And when women smell this compound, their hearts beat faster and their mood improves !

Similarly women too produce a chemical that lifts a man's mood and it is called estratetraenol (ES-trah-TEH-trah-noll). And like in men, it is not produced in the armpits but in women's urine ! Gosh, this gives the sexual position 69 a whole new dimension. May be this is what Donald Trump's 'Golden Shower' parties were all about... just getting in a good mood.

Since we humans perceive body odour as dirty, we have created our own scents. But like animals, smell continues to play a role in attracting mates. Most boys in the 1980s and early 90s were obsessed with one perfume — Jovan Sex Appeal.

I remember a group of us pooled in money and invested in a bottle of Jovan Sex Appeal. We bought a bottle from Honk Kong Bazaar in the by-lane of Dhanvanthri Road. We thought the moment we apply a splash of this magic potion on our face and neck, half of Maharani's College and Teresian College would be on its knees.

We also thought we could seduce women at will. And why did we think this? Well, because the cover of Jovan Sex Appeal said so: "Sex Appeal - Now you don't have to be born with it. This provocative stimulating blend of rare spices and herbs was created by man for the sole purpose of attracting women at will."

It was a lie. For two months we reeked of perfume and desperation. Our classmates nick-named us "Jovan Despos."

But something good came of this hunt for the perfect perfume to attract girls. We gained some farcical general knowledge. We learnt that 'Cologne' was a place in Germany and perfumes originating from this city were called cologne! We even learnt some French. We learnt that "Pour Homme" means "for men" in French. We learnt that "Eau de toilette" literally meant toilet water ! But what it actually means is lightly scented water kept in toilets to splash on face to freshen up.

Of course, today most youngsters are exposed to numerous types of perfumes. But the underlying appeal to attract the opposite sex remains relevant.

That is why even a simple deodorant spray meant to keep your body odour at bay is sold as a means to attract a mate. Remember the AXE Deo ad? You spray AXE Deo and by the time you are out of your door, you are no more Vikram Muthanna but Cadbury's Muthanna that every woman wants to unwrap and take a bite? Well, that's Jovan Sex Appeal for today's generation. Perfumes don't work if you don't have charm or personality.

These days due to audio-visual overload, our sense of smell has been taken for granted. But there are about 5% of humans who just cannot smell ! It's a condition called Anosmia.

This condition puts them in danger as they cannot smell smoke, rotten food or a gas leak. Of course, it can also be a blessing if you live with a farty spouse, or work with people who have bad breath. But again you wouldn't know if you are smelling bad yourself.

Worse is, since 75% of our taste for food and memories are triggered by smell, you miss out on the joys of eating and vivid memories. Just imagine eating a masala dosa without getting the taste or smell of it. It is like eating cardboard. Life becomes tasteless and bland without smell.

In fact, smell is a very important aspect of sales for cleaning agents. Citrus smell evokes a sense of cleanliness, fruity smell evokes comfort and flowers remind us of maternal love. All these three scents are predominately used in washing and bathing products. It is said, people become more trusting and generously donate money when they are in a room that smells citrusy because it evokes a sense of hygiene which in turn evokes trust !

We reckon in this digital-obsessed world it is time to wake up and not only smell the coffee, but also stop to smell the roses. Who knows when we will lose the sense of smell? A common cold could lead to Anosmia so also old age.

For now, I have bought a bottle of Calvin Klein 'Obsession' just to test it. I plan to wear it to the recently opened Jumbo Circus and to the Mysuru Zoo, let's see if I can get the big cats riled up !

But then I better be careful when I walk up Chamundi Hill, lest I get pissed all over by a territorial leopard or worse, if it likes my smell and goes all Section 377 on me !!

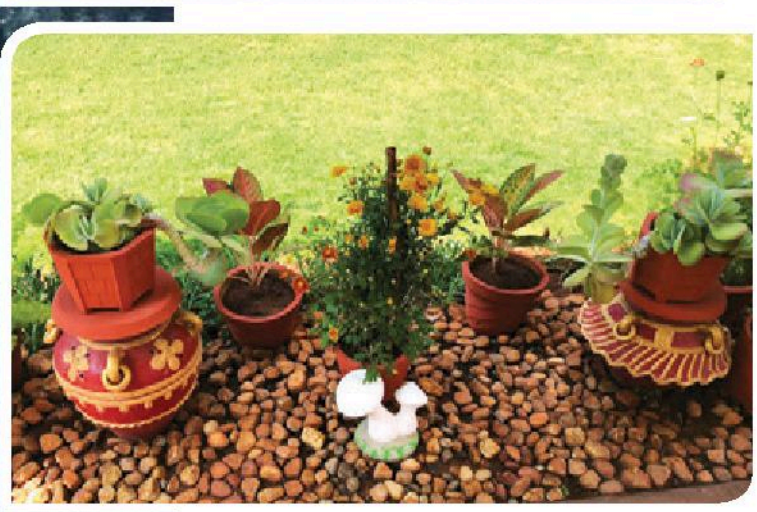
The Constant Gardener

Today's fervent green thumb is not your mom, wife or sister but men in their 20s and 30s and even elders who are growing their own flowers, ornamental plants and veggies. The ancient art of gardening is now being embraced by a new demographic. For decades, the typical gardener has been a woman while guys who gardened tended to be grey-haired grandpas. Now, younger men are muscling in as you can see in this Weekend Star Supplement that throws light on Gentlemen Gardeners and also features some of the women who are taking part in this year's 'Dasara Home Garden' competition.

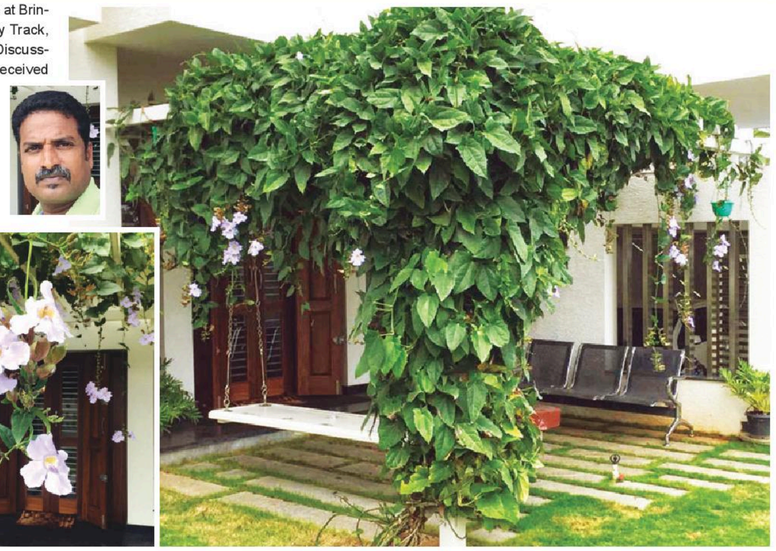


STAR OF MYSORE Saturday 13th October 2018 Weekend STAR Supplement Page - 13

Men with a Green Thumb

Guy Gardening: When males call the landscape shots

When M. Vijay Kumar built his new house at Brindavan Extension in front of the Railway Track, he had his vision clear: To have a beautiful garden. Discussing his passion with his family members, Vijay Kumar received ample support.

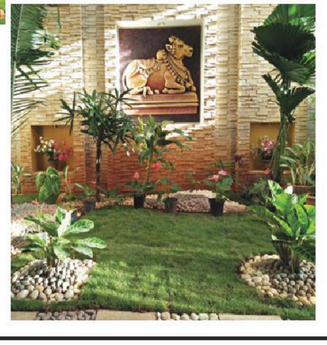


A Structural Engineer and Building Contractor by profession, he has enough experience in landscaping and he guided each inch of the garden of his house. Be it placing of the flower pots, granite slabs, place for hanging plants and ornamental stones, he called the shots and the result is for everyone to see.

Continuing his mother's passion

For businessman Ajit Pai, passion for gardening has come from his mother late Jayanthi R. Pai, who had won many prizes during Dasara contests for garden at their factory and also home near Aditya Hospital, Gokulam. "When we renovated our home, we changed the garden completely and replanted it. It is now being taken care of by my wife Prathibha Pai. While I enjoy the garden and did enjoy creating it by going to nurseries and buying plants, I am not into real-time gardening. My interest is limited to its upkeep and enjoyment," he says. Garden Consultant Keerthi helped Ajit's family in creating the garden.

MySooru in Mysuru

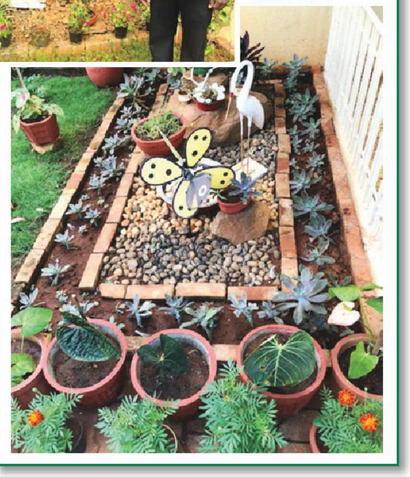


Dr. T. Srikanth's house in Dattagalli 3rd Stage sports a name board "MySooru" that is a combination of English and Kannada and at the same time gives out the name of the city — Mysuru. 'My' is 'mine' in English and 'Sooru' is shelter in Kannada. A MySooru in Mysuru. Apart from an eye-catching garden in front and the sides of his house, Dr. Srikanth has a garden inside his living room too.

A self-sufficient garden

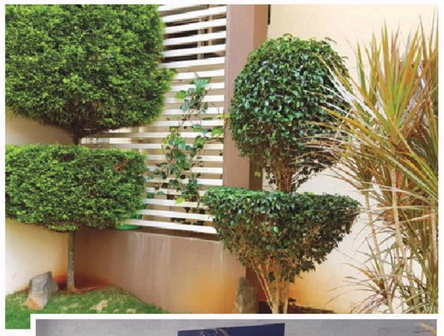
The garden maintained by Selina Abbas Vagh and Ali Vagh at Jayalakshmipuram is self-sufficient, complete with water pond and vermi-compost pits. Their gardener is Chandra, who is passionate about plants and spends his time and energy nurturing the plants. "So enthusiastic is Chandra about plant upkeep and landscaping that we need not bother about our garden," says Ali.

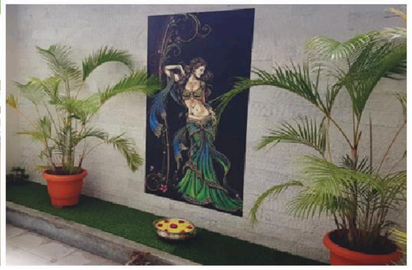
The beautiful garden has various ornamental plants such as orchids, anthurium, hibiscus, roses, different types of cacti, seasonal flowering plants as well as fruit trees such as coconut, jackfruit, lime, banana, custard apple, gooseberry, guava, passion fruit and also betel leaf. This apart, the garden has a vegetable section where black pepper vines, drumsticks, chillies, curry leaves, lemon grass, etc. are grown. "We also have our own vermi-compost pit and the manure for all plants come from here. We have a pond too with some water plants like lilies," he adds. The Vaghs believe that a garden gives a place to unwind, relax and enjoy the chirping birds and colourful butterflies.



Builder's idea turns into reality

Builder and real estate businessman G.S. Ashok Kumar, who has built many homes in Mysuru, planned it out when he built his home at Vijayanagar 3rd Stage. A Science graduate, Ashok Kumar wanted it to be a beautiful house with greenery around. He planned saplings in such a way that enough fresh air emitted by plants enters his house. A main feature of his house is that there are several flower pots, shapely pruned trees and, of course, artworks amidst them. He is ably assisted by his wife Shyla Ashok Kumar.





Perfect place for morning cuppa

A gazebo inside a garden where the house owner loves to have his morning cuppa along with newspapers — that is the house of V. Deshikan Hemmige. "We constructed our house "Indraprastha" at Kuvempunagar in 1989 and the garden was created by my parents late Lakshmidevamma and late Vedanth Hemmige (former MLA and freedom fighter). We got all the plants from Krishna Raja Sagar Horticulture Department," he says.

After a stint of 20 years in the top echelons of corporate world, Deshikan is on a sabbatical since a couple of years. "I just got the lawn relaid, some landscaping done and built a gazebo in the garden," he says. He resides with his wife Bhargavi D. Hemmige, an Assistant Professor and Head of the Department of Journalism at Mahajana First Grade College and their two sons.

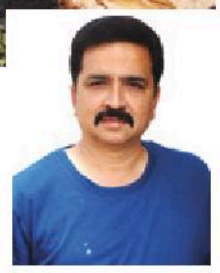
"Having a house at Vidyaranyapuram amidst greenery makes Anil Kumar proud. An employee of Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation Limited (KPTCL), he says that he has two bonsais (Lemon and 'Herale Kai') that continuously bear fruits. "I have harvested more than 1,000 lemons from this one plant," Anil Kumar says.

He inherited his passion for gardening from his father Nirmal Kumar, who was also an employee of KPTCL. Anil Kumar has best utilised whatever area available around his home to create a green space — both flowering and fruit-bearing plants.

Street Art and House Art



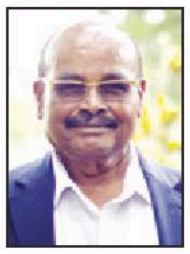
"Enter this particular area in Venkatalingaiah Layout near Mysore Dairy on Mysuru-Bannur Road and you will face a different world. The entire street and sidewalls are dedicated to greenery, beautification and paintings of wildlife, birds and mural art. Businessman Pradeep Kumar is the brain behind this street art. Even his home in the same area is pleasant to see with greenery and paintings all over. After his work hours, Pradeep Kumar dedicates his entire time to home garden and street garden. His message is loud and clear — Save Greenery, Save Yourself.

Passion for vintage cars and greenery

"M. G. Madhava Shenoy, son of Savithri Shenoy and Gopinath Shenoy, has a liking towards gardening too. But his mainstay is vintage cars. His father owns a fleet of 32 vintage beauties. Madhava Shenoy's house on Dewan's Road, Lakshmipuram, sports a beautiful garden with aesthetic landscaping. With greenery, murals, small water bodies, bonsais and attractive artefacts all over, the house can be termed as a Gardener's Paradise. "My mother is into full-time gardening and I just help her. I trim the bonsais and spray fertilizers," Madhava Shenoy adds.

So much to learn at this garden

"Prof. M. Rudraradhya's house at Vijayanagar 3rd Stage is a treasure trove of plants. Meticulously planned and executed, his garden is an Ocean of Knowledge. Apart from a host of flowering plants, this garden is home to various vegetables, ornamental plants and fruit trees. There are many plants at "Ashwini Vana" inside the garden that are used in home remedies that can cure most of the common ailments.



All the plants are grown in terrace garden and visitors have called Prof. Rudraradhya's house as "Krishi Brahmanda". Instead of spending retired life reminiscing the past deeds and mistakes, Prof. Rudraradhya utilises his time and energy on the roof garden of his 60x40 abode.

Queens of the Garden

Fashionista's green area

Hashmath Fathima's home garden in Kalyanagiri has been winning prizes at Dasara Home Garden competitions. She has been doing this since the past 15 years. "A Fashion Designer by Profession, gardening is my Passion. My father had keen interest in gardening and inspired by him I started planting and ornamenting my garden since my childhood," she says.

Her garden is an attractive combination of natural greenery with artificial attractions. Both complement each other and gel well in entirety.

A garden is a great teacher

For A. Pallavi Adarsh, gardening is glory and it is a great teacher. "Hands in the dirt, head in the sun, heart with nature. To nurture a garden is to feed not just the body, but the soul," she says. Located at V.V. Mohalla, Pallavi's house is a steady combination of greenery and concrete.

While her husband Adarsh K. Murthy looks after A. Shankara Chetty & Sons jewellery group, Pallavi is into full-time gardening. "Participating in the Dasara Garden Competition has brought boundless joy. Being third time participant and winner in the large category of home gardens in 2013 and 2015 was a learning experience," she says.

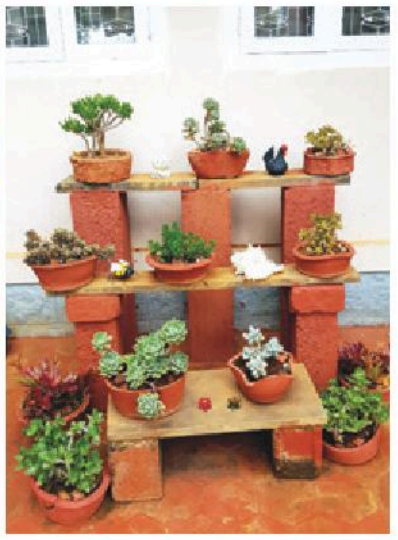
Her garden houses fruit-bearing trees like Mango, Avocado, Jackfruit, Chickoo, Custard Apple, Papaya and Gooseberry. Plantation crops include coconut and lemon. An old and massive Badam tree provides shade to the entire front-yard with a rockery at the base hosting many flowering and ornamental plants set in the backdrop of bamboos.

Lawns of various kinds like Mexican, elephant and munda grass at different nooks and corners, creepers like money plant, tanbergia, four-winged beans and tinospora cordifolia also are a part of the garden. Special features include a bonsai garden, pergola feature adorned with creepers, lotus ponds, an old conserved well, cactus, shrub and kitchen gardens.

Octogenarian wields a spade for passion

For 89-year-old R. Lalitha Bai, wife of late Capt. Dr. Rangoji Rao, gardening has been a passion and hobby for past thirty years. When residing at Raichur, she was awarded for her best coleus collection. Now a resident of Yadavagiri, she spends most of her time in the midst of plants.

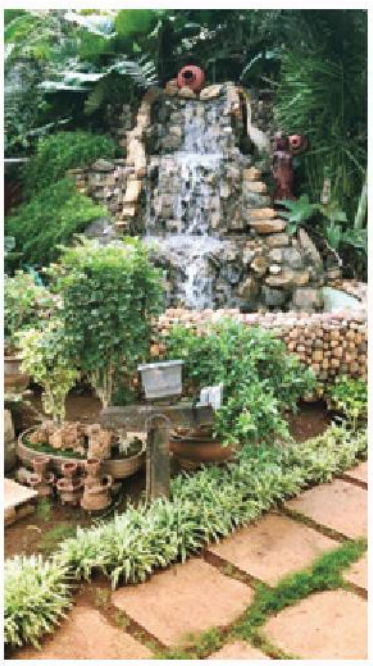
Lalitha Bai has been participating in Mysuru Dasara Flower Show competition from past 10 years and has been awarded for her garden in large garden category. She has a large collection of bonsai, anthurium, aerial and ornamental plants.



A truly rewarding experience

For Shamala Prasanna, gardening is a passion that she pursues with vigour, intensity and dedication. This has made her win awards for 'The Best Garden' by the Mysore Horticultural Society every year, since the last 22 years. Her house is in Lakshmipuram.

"It has been an exhilarating journey that has encouraged me to try out innovative ways of displaying my garden. It is a round-the-year work that involves taking regular care of thousands of plants, re-potting them, fertilising them and ensuring that they are disease-free," she says.



"To improve my gardening skills, I never miss opportunities to learn more about gardening by participating in conventions and workshops. All the efforts I have put in has resulted in a variety of gardening attractions — the wide varieties of bonsai, cacti, ornamental plants, seasonal flowering plants, vertical gardens, living murals and Penjings are arranged in my landscaped garden with a lush green Mexican lawn. This year, there are new additions – a rockery with cacti and succulents," she explains.

The unique selling point that helps her stand apart in the Dasara competition is incorporating Mysore's traditional doll-display spread around her garden.

Dasara Wrestling event lacks transparency, says former Wrestler

Mysuru, Oct.13 (YDS&DM)- Alleging that the Dasara Wrestling contest is getting less transparent with each passing year, former international wrestler from Belagavi, Pailwan Ratan Mathapathi has said that this has resulted in participation coming down.

Ratan Mathapathi

Taking exception to the referees decision to grant 4 points instead of two points in the 63kg Greeco-Roman style wrestling event at D. Devaraj Urs Multi-purpose Stadium in Dasara Exhibition premises here yesterday, Mathapathi alleged that the referees refused to video record the event despite his repeated pleas.

Expressing disappointment that locals were drawn to judge the bouts though the wrestling competition was a State-level one, he wondered how in such a scenario, wrestlers from far off places can be drawn to the event.

Maintaining that those who have nothing to do with wrestling, have become organisers of the Dasara Wrestling event, he observed that there should be no politics in education and sports.

Deploring the treatment meted out to wrestlers, he said that it was time to have a rethink on how the Dasara Wrestling event can be made more inclusive and attractive.

Dust masks Air Show rehearsal

The final air show by the Indian Air Force is slated for 11 am tomorrow and the people are hoping that the District Administration will take measures to prevent dust from spoiling the show.

Many people who witnessed the show told Star of Mysore that the authorities could have at least poured water on the ground to prevent dust from rising. Waves of dust rose as soon as the rehearsals began this morning at around 11.34 am.

A helicopter flew above the grounds and dropped flower petals. A plane arrived after 30 minutes and over 8 para-troopers jumped from a height of 800 metres. Except for the parachutes that were coloured in National Tricolour, the crowd could not see anything.

Due to wind and air pressure, dust storms blocked the visibility and people had to run for cover. Even the food stalls that were set up at the Grounds had to bear the brunt as dust covered the eatables including fruits, cucumber and other snacks.

People said that the colours of their dresses changed and dust was all over their bodies.

"Children and the elderly had to face a traumatic time today. We hope at least the District Administration prepares the ground for tomorrow's show," a caller said.

72 couples enjoy Heritage Tonga Ride

Mysuru, Oct.13 (MTY& SR)- As many as 72 couples from various parts of the city and district took part in the Heritage Tonga Ride for couples, organised by the Department of Archaeology, Museums and Heritage, Mysuru, to showcase the heritage and architecture of beauty for the tourists, in city this morning.

Tourism Minister S.R. Mahesh inaugurated the Tonga Ride by offering 'Bagina,' containing Mysuru Peta, bangles, kumkum, as a mark of tradition to the participating couples.

Later, the Tourism Minister went on a Tonga ride along with MCC Commissioner K.H. Jagadeesha and Commissioner for Department of Archaeology, Museums and Heritage T. Venkatesh till K.R. Circle and grabbed the attention of the public.

Speaking to reporters on the occasion, S.R. Mahesh said that the Tourism Department has organised a series of events like Heritage Walk, Open Jeep Ride, Cycling and Tonga Rides for Couples with main intention to attract tourists and introduce them the vast heritage buildings of the city.

Referring to the reported boycott of BJP MLA L. Nagendra to Dasara events, the Minister said: "Dasara celebration is not a private affair. It is a Naada Habba. It is not possible to invite everybody. The leaders should voluntarily take part in events without waiting for invitation."

Each tonga, carrying two couples, passed through main thoroughfares of the city. Every participating couple wore traditional attire.

Hundreds of members of Mysuru Heritage Forum and volunteers too were part of the event. The organisers served Pongal near K.R. Hospital where the ride culminated.

Experts explained the importance of heritage sites located along the route.

A total of 42 tongas participated. Tourist Department distributed Rs.800 honorarium to each tongas.

Department of Archaeology, Museums and Heritage Deputy Director Nirmala Mathapathi and others were present.

THREE STAGES

There are three stages put up in the festival. The main one is near the Law Courts and the second near the Maharaja's College entrance just behind ORI. The third stage on Ekalavya Circle is called the Coca Cola stage.

Nearly 30 students from Bahadur Institute of Management Sciences (BIMS), Manasagangothri including foreign students were all set to dance on the main stage near law courts.

They are focusing on the theme, "Banni Dasara Sambhramisona, Swachh Mysuruge Sahakarasi" (Come let us celebrate Dasara, Cooperate for a clean Mysuru), said BIMS Coordinator P.S. Prasad.

The Centre for Renewable Energy and Sustainable Technologies (CREST) National Institute of Engineering has set up a stall under Earth category where they speak about the advantage of bio-gas, rain water harvesting, composting.

Final year Environmental Engineering students of JSS Science and Technology University have also set up a stall where they give away cloth bags with slogan 'Say no to paper and plastic use cloth bags.'

OTHER ATTRACTIONS

Three girls were seen getting their faces painted. Two of the girls Sharanya and Varsha were tenth standard students of JSS High School while the third Arpitha was a seventh standard student.

Nearly 50 artistes from Mogaranadu, Narikombu villages of Bantwal Taluk in Dakshina Kannada were a major draw. The Chande Balaga dance with six girls and as many boys had the audience roaring and applauding.

They also have the Janapada Gombe Balaga with boys wearing huge costumes, as well as Huli Vesha (painting their bodies in tiger stripes) boys. Simran Aiyanna from Mysuru also has put up a stall. She is also a singer and is set to perform this evening on stage one.

For the adventurous type, there is High Fly Adventures. Nine-year-old Mukul, with rope harnessed around his body and wearing a helmet, did a mock rock climbing effortlessly.

"We are expecting more than two lakh footfalls by the time the street festival ends at 9 pm today," the organisers said.

PARKING

Even as the day progressed, people started thronging the Boulevard. They came from all sides on their two-wheelers and four-wheelers.

The organisers however, had made adequate parking arrangements. There is ample parking space all around the venue right from the Crawford Hall Circle, inside the Maharaja's College, the Vani Vilas Girls High School near Ekalavya Circle, as also the lanes and by-lanes near Chamarajapuram.
